TENNESSEE CHAMBER RELEASES STATE LEGISLATOR

VOTER SCORES FOR 108TH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Tennessee Chamber of Commerce & Industry today released its legislative vote results for the 108th General Assembly. The comprehensive analysis is based on a number of important legislative initiatives focused on by the Tennessee Chamber. The vote analysis is Tennessee's most comprehensive business issue vote guide for the business community and is released state-wide at the conclusion of each 2 year general assembly session. The Tennessee Chamber Board of Directors would like to recognize our legislature and the significant wins the Tennessee Chamber had on a number of important issues that were passed into law and other proposed legislation defeated that would have harmed our business climate.

"We are proud to recognize our General Assembly and share with the business community our Tennessee Chamber key issue vote results. This is one of or key functions as we advocate for pro-business policy at the State Capitol showing the business community how legislators perform on a number of important issues," said Bradley Jackson, vice president for the Tennessee Chamber Government affairs program.

The Tennessee Chamber takes exceptional pride in recognizing members of the House and Senate with 100% voter scores during the 108th General Assembly, as featured below:

House	Senate
Speaker Beth Harwell (R-District 56)	Lt. Gov. Ron Ramsey (R-District 4)
John Forgety (R-District 23)	Janice Bowling (R-District 16)
Ryan A. Haynes (R-District 14)	Steven Dickerson (R-District 20)
Curtis G. Johnson (R-District 68)	Ferrell Haile (R-District 18)
Ron Travis (R-District 31)	Bill Ketron (R-District 13)
Mark White (R-District 83)	Randy McNally (R-District 5)
	John Stephens (R-District 24)

"The Tennessee Chamber of Commerce acknowledges and greatly appreciates the commitment this collection of legislators have taken towards encouraging the growth of businesses and free enterprise throughout the state of Tennessee," said Catherine Glover, president of the Tennessee Chamber.

For 2013-14 the Chamber focused on a number of important issues. All scores and the full report are available in the Tennessee Chamber's quarterly magazine, Business Insider which can be viewed by visiting www.tnchamber.org
